

Red Hood saved the Queen

Written by Yousuf

On 8th March, the queen was not in the palace, because it was the 'No Queen Day'. She arrived at Gotham. The queen was trapped in an abandoned asylum. She was nervous. There were lots of riddles to solve.

First, the queen was extremely curious and nervous. The queen was trying to solve all the riddles. They were extremely hard.

Then, Red Hood came to help the queen. Red Hood was really smart, because Batman trained Red Hood.

After that, Red Hood solved all the riddles. The queen was relieved. Suddenly, the evil enchantress came. The enchantress tried to kill Red Hood and the queen.

Red Hood countered all enchantress's attacks. Red Hood knocked the enchantress so easily. The queen awarded Red Hood the trophy of 'The Best Crime Fighter'.
