

The Wonderful Funland

Written and illustrated by Nuben Hang Limbu

On a beautiful sunny morning, a handsome boy visited the Funland cheerfully. He felt excited.

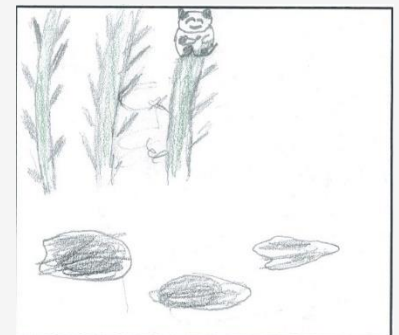

First, the boy spotted a famous rock star on the big stage of the food court. The boy was delighted because the rock star was performing very well. The boy screamed, "You are performing very well."

Next, the boy saw a funny clown in the circus, the boy was excited. However, the clown was nervous because many people were looking at him patiently.

After that, the boy spotted a panda at the Panda Village. He was shocked because the panda was jumping through the bamboo properly and carefully.

Finally, the boy felt tired and returned home on a colorful fun bus. What an adventurous day!

