Dear Parents/Guardians,

In order to promote self-directed learning and facilitate students to learn Chinese effectively at home and at school, we have tailor-made a supplementary Chinese book (齊齊學) for the students to solve the problems they face during Chinese learning. The book categorized Chinese vocabulary and QR codes are available in the book to provide the students with audio support in learning the pronunciation of Chinese characters. We are now going to give each student a free copy of the book. However, if they lose it, they have to buy it at $40.

In addition, we encourage parents facilitate students study Chinese by utilizing different learning platforms at home to effectively train students' Chinese ability for the sake of raising their Chinese learning interest and developing their reading hobbies. Read & Write Trooper, a Chinese-learning App developed by Heep Hong Society, is rather suitable for non-Chinese students and students with lower Chinese ability. Through various games, this App uses examples from daily life so that students can acquire and apply Chinese vocabulary to everyday life. Moreover, Lexical Lists for Chinese Learning in Hong Kong (香港小學習字表) is also a useful Chinese-learning App which can help students to learn the correct order of strokes and order of strokes. Parents can download this App on mobile phones or tablets for free; or scan the QR code attached below.
